

Africa Comes to Cheshire

As Red Nose Day '09 hits the nation on Friday March 13th, Kindertons Accident Management are preparing to bring a touch of Africa to the Head Office in Cheshire!

In late 2008, Kindertons employee Tanya Houghton arrived back from a nine-week mercy mission to Mombassa, Kenya, where she had been working with children who had been abandoned or orphaned as a result of HIV/AIDS, or whose families are entrenched in poverty and unable to take care of them.

With this in mind an African theme was decided on for the office, there is sure to be some fantastic fancy dress outfits ranging from various animals to tribal clothing.

Accompanying the African theme Kindertons are also having various other ways of raising money including charity haircuts, waxing's and red food day...all in a bid to raise as much money as possible for Red Nose Day.

Further to this, Shaun Ellison's generosity has got the better of him yet again as he has kindly promised to match the total raised by the staff in a bid to maximise the amount donated.
