

WHAT HAPPENS NEXT?

We're sorry to hear that you have been involved in an accident and hope that you and everyone else involved were unharmed.

You may be wondering what happens next, don't worry, we're still here to support and guide you through the next stage of your claim.

We appreciate that you do not want to experience any delays with your claim so we are doing all we can to ensure we continue to progress this for you during this time.

To process your claim as fast as possible, we require some pictures of your vehicle. From these images, we will assess any vehicle damages through a desktop inspection where possible, to make sure we move your claim along swiftly and get you back on the road as soon as we can.

DESKTOP INSPECTIONS EXPLAINED

You may be questioning how we can still do this remotely without an engineer physically going out to inspect your vehicle. Our high-skilled and experienced engineers will use a wide array of technology, alongside any images you can provide us with to make an assessment of the damage.

In doing so, we can provide confirmation on if your vehicle is deemed a total loss or if it can be repaired and what it will cost to do so.

HOW YOU CAN HELP US PROGRESS YOUR CLAIM

In order to progress your claim promptly, we ask that you send to us any photographic evidence of your vehicle (including any damage). We have provided some guidance on how best to do this within this document.
